We hear you

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I was so mad last Saturday (Nov. 6) I just had to call. I think something should be in the paper about it. We'd read about the recycling center at Campbell high school being open that day and about 10 a.m. stopped by to see how long they'd be open. The students said they'd be there till noon before going for lunch. Well we went all the way out to Wedgewood and loaded up our car. When we came back at 11:20 the place was closed up. So we waited. For about 25 minutes we waited and no one ever came back. While we were there at least seven other cars drove up and believe me the people were furious. We finally unloaded our stuff next to the fence and drove off.

Local Woman

Editor's note: We tried several times last week to reach the group advisor John Salinas but were unsuccessful. The last scheduled hours at the center were 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for this Saturday. We hope to have some information on what happened and why for you next week.

Everyone here loved the article on Bonnie Phelps (district teacher of the year). It was very human and made for unusually interesting reading.

Prospect teacher

Last week I understand there was an executive session planned by the City Council before their 8 p.m. regular meeting time. It was cancelled. Why?

Editor's note: According to City Attorney J. Robert Dempster, that meeting was called off because proper notification wasn't made to the news media. By the way, the item under discussion (whether or not to allow a break in the noise wall along the north loop street) had been criticized earlier by an individual and by this paper as an item which should not have been taken up behind closed doors. There was no official discussion of that question however, since the meeting was not held.

I just called up to tell you I'm mad because you didn't have the results of the Rolling Hills school skateboarding contest in the paper last week. You covered the Campbell junior high school contest and even ran pictures. So how come you didn't have Rolling Hills?

A Student

Editor's note: I told the caller that we hadn't received any information from the school yet and a few minutes later another student called to say Mike Dreger took the top prize. (There was no information on second and third place.) I learned then that the contest had been held the afternoon of the day before. This may be time for a reminder that deadline for announcements and stories is Thursday at noon for the next week's paper. Lately we've been getting more and more stories that come in after the deadline.

I just wanted to say that I disagree with whoever writes the "We Hear You" column. I don't think those new one-way streets are marked clearly enough. In fact, if you'll look at the portable "No Left Turn" sign on Central ave. at Campbell you'll see that someone's already run into it. But I do agree with one thing. Its the old timers around here having most of the problems. The turns onto and off of Campbell avenue have become automatic to many of us. And it's going to take some unlearning.

Cat traps stir local ire

By PAT SAFFORD

IF YOU THINK your tabby is a free soul who can roam at will across fence post and limb, guess again. If he meanders into a neighbor's yard he can legally be trapped and turned over to the Humane Society.

And one family in the south Campbell area has been doing just that, to the great displeasure of some neighbors including one woman on adjacent White Oaks road who recently lost two cats.

The saga of Pumpkin the cat began three weeks ago when he turned up missing and his owner, a young working mother, went out to search for him.

In her talks with neighbors she learned that one family on nearby Longfellow drive had a cat trap, that the county animal control truck was a regular visitor to that home and that the little blue truck had made a stop there the day before.

WHEN SHE went down to check with the Humane Society the next morning she found her orange and white tabby, plunked down $10, and took him home.

But that incident started her thinking about a second cat (Pumpkin's mother) who disappeared three weeks before. A check of the neighborhood turned up numerous stories of missing cats and when she learned that it's perfectly okay to trap trespassing cats, she put in a call to the PRESS.

$5 million project

Expressway widening unveiled

IF YOU WANT to get in your two cents worth on the $5 million plan to widen the San Tomas Expressway, tonight's the night.

Rosemary school, 401 W. Hamilton ave. is the site of the public hearing by the county transportation agency Wednesday, Nov. 17 starting at 7 p.m. in the multi-use room.

The four phase program will include installation of concrete "noise walls," widening the Expressway from four to six lanes, instituting a car pool lane and landscaping.

According to Project Engineer Jeff Torres, the six year project is expected to get the bulk of funding from federal sources. The Federal Aid Urban (FAU) fund should pick up about 83 per cent of the cost with the balance to come from county sources; probably road tax revenues.

THE PROJECT, due to begin this year, will take in the Expressway from Highway 17 on the south end to El Camino Real in Santa Clara on the north.

Phase I will include installation of the concrete noise barriers, Torres says, which will range in height from six to 10 feet. Final completion of this phase will take three years, Torres explained, and will be done on a still-to-be-decided priority basis.

According to the Engineer, earlier hearings on the proposal led to the decision to undertake installation of the barriers first.

"This was the number one concern of residents," Torres declared.

PHASE II, to begin in the 1979-1980 fiscal year is widening of the Expressway from four to six lanes. No additional land will be required for this phase, since there's adequate space in the center of the roadway. Even with the road widening, Torres says, there will still be an 18 foot wide median strip remaining for plantings to soften the ribbons of concrete.

In 1981-1982 the Agency plans to institute car pool or van lanes (Phase III) wile the final Phase, Landscaping, begins in 1981-1982.

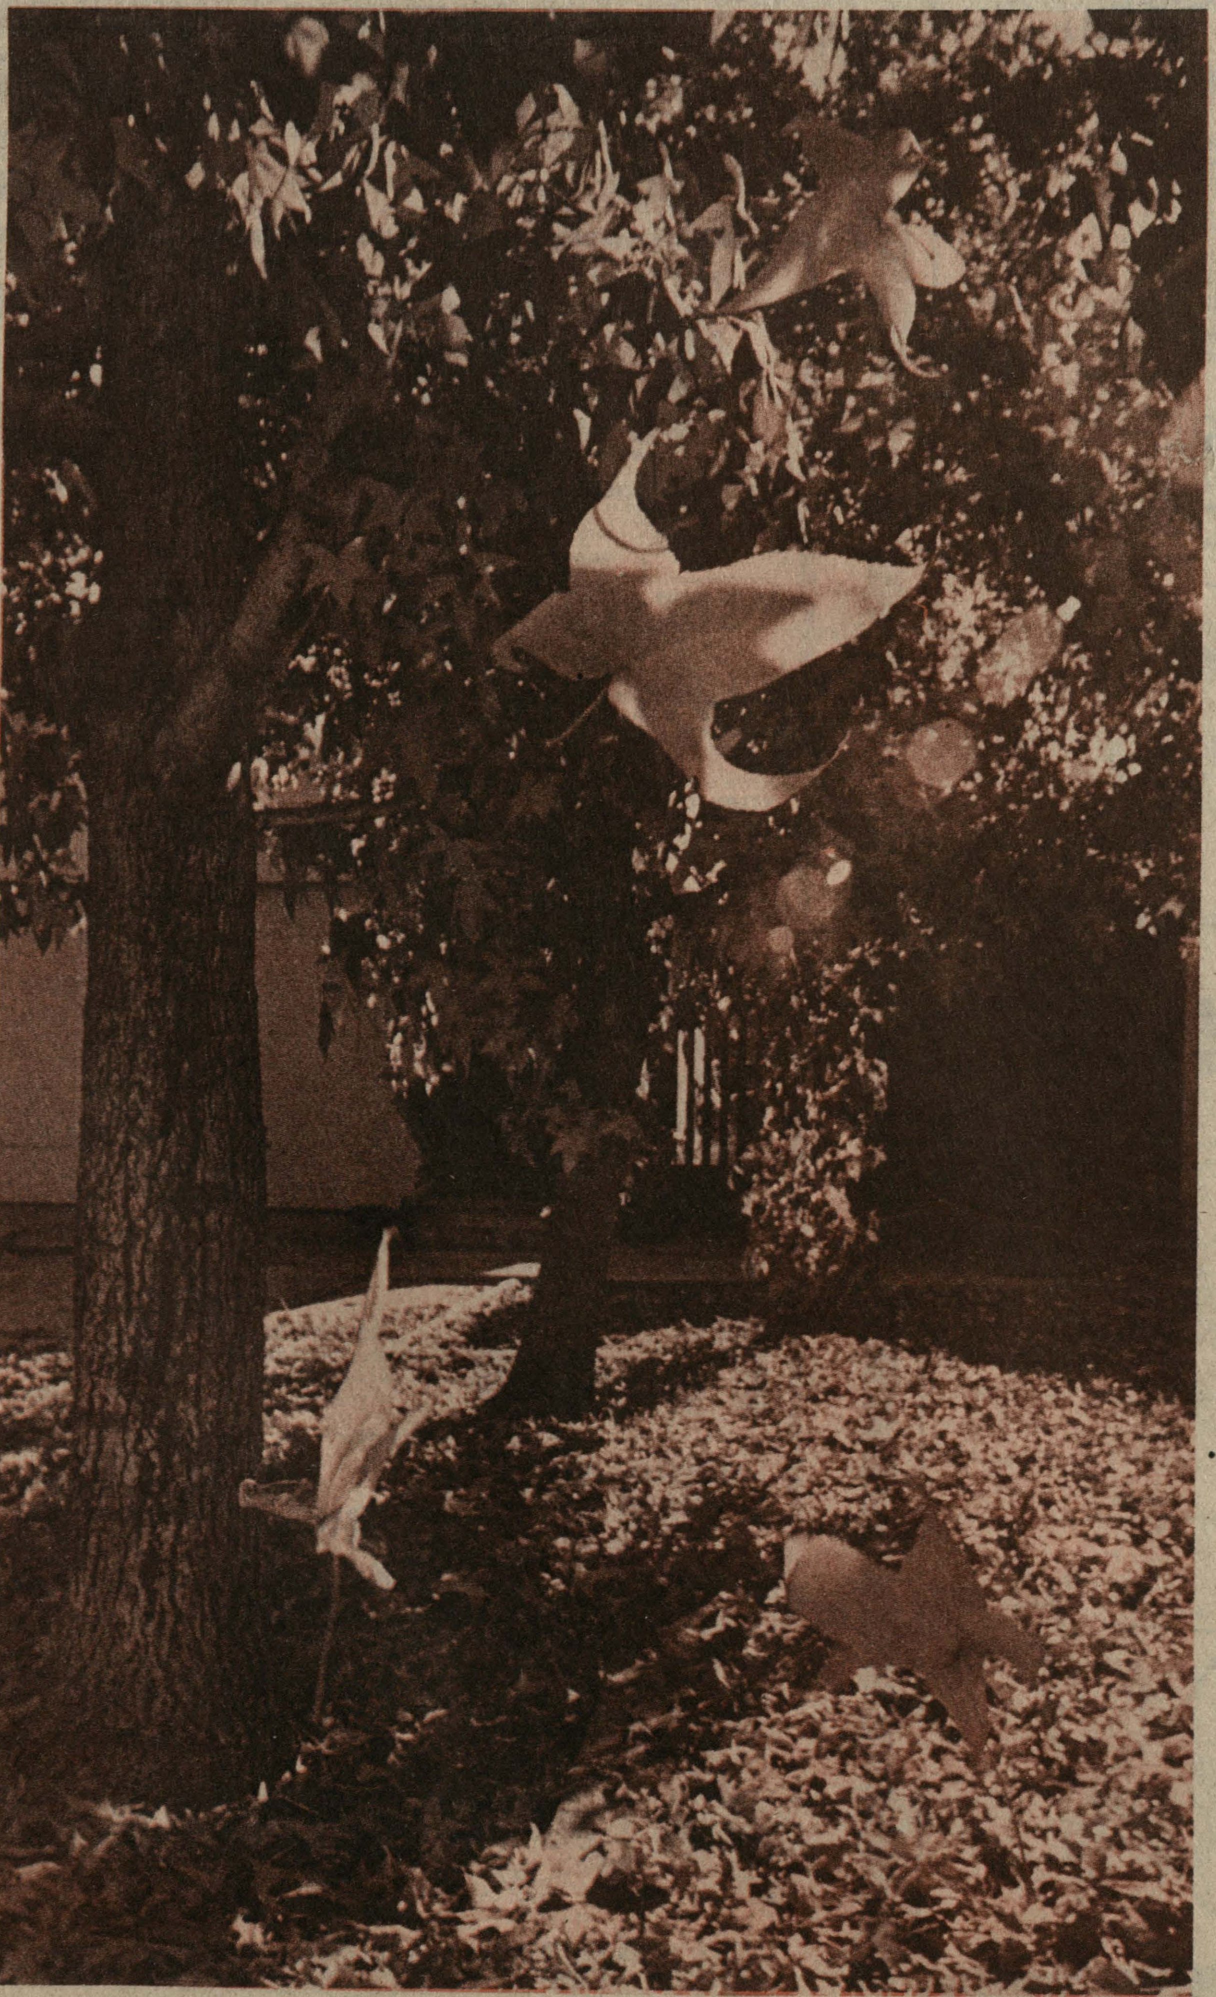
Plans for the multi-million dollar project have been in the works for years, Torres explained, with formal plans for the Expressway submitted in 1974.

WHEN THE San Tomas Expressway was designed originally, plans called for eventually widening it to six lanes. And according to traffic studies, that time has come. Traffic volumes are now 30,000 to 31,000 cars per day on the Expressway with projections for an increase, "as high as 49,000" by 1990.

Speakers tonight will include Scotty Bruce, senior design engineer for the transit agency and Donald Frolich, a member of the County Transportation Commission.

At 7 p.m. the public will get a chance to view a display showing the proposed design and stages of development. The public hearing starts at 7:30.

According to Torres, the transit agency would like public reaction and ideas.



Changing seasons: A leaf at a time

Autumn is the time for planting bulbs, planning for the holidays and raking leaves. Last week Photographer Gordon Lew caught this picture of a season in motion on Ensenada drive.

Rookie's first arrest

Campbell Officer Howard Drake made his first arrest last week and it was a cinch. The man wanted on a felony charge walked up to him and asked to be taken into custody.

The incident started when another officer on patrol spotted the 21 year old man on a motorcycle that matched the description of one reported stolen earlier. When he stopped the Sunnyvale man and learned he was wanted on a grand theft charge, he advised the man he was under arrest.

The man fled on foot, through backyards on Ester and N. Third street and disappeared (Police later learned he flagged down a car and was given a ride).

Five hours later, following a fruitless search by police, the man was spotted by Drake (in plain clothes) who stopped his car and walked towards him.

"I know you're the police," the man reportedly said, "and I'm giving myself up."

Garden center up for review

A large garden center, 105 unit senior citizen apartment complex and the Pruneyard's "Peace on Earth" sign are three items that come before the Campbell Planning Commission Thursday, Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Hall council chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

Kjartan Armann is the applicant for a Woolworth Garden Center to be located at 2460 S. Winchester blvd., across from the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center.

The proposed 2.5 acre development would include 14,000 square feet of covered sales area, 29,000 square feet of outdoor plant sales area and 1,100 square feet of storage for garden supplies plus 76 parking spaces.

Also up for consideration are plans and a zone change request by Robert McKee on behalf of Corinthian House, inc.

The large senior citizen apartment complex would be located at 250 Budd ave., near John D. Morgan park.

Six hundred 25 watt bulbs will be used again this year by the Pruneyard to light up their "Peace on Earth" sign atop the tallest Towers building.

Staff is recommending approval of the sign application, with the proviso that the sign be removed by Jan. 15.

Flippin at Campbell high

PRACTICING her flipping skills for the Sunday pancake breakfast at Campbell high school is Bonnie Guditus, with Bev Kephart offering encouragement. Actually, pancakes is just one of the morning fare offered at the Nov. 21 fund raiser. There's also ham, eggs, juice, etc. etc. The fee is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children and hours are 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Also planned at 10:30 that morning is a football rally in the gym.

Cat traps

Curiosity can get them caged

"It may be legal to have traps," she declared, "but is it legal to bait them?"

Indeed it is, explained Michael Ditore, supervising animal control officer. And most cat trappers use either sardines or tuna as bait.

BUT DOESN'T that attract every cat in the neighborhood?, we asked.

"Well, cats do have a good sense of smell," was Ditore's response.

A trip to the neighborhood turned up the woman who plunked down over $30 to a cage company to purchase the trap. And it also turned up the reason for her decision late last year.

"We had a lovely vegetable garden" declared the woman who asked that she not be identified, "but they (the cats) wrecked it by digging their holes and I've picked up handfuls of bird feathers you could fill a pillow with."

A PARTICULARILY shattering experience for the woman came last year when she came out one morning to find the wild doves who were nesting in her lemon tree, sitting on a cable wire and the three babies killed. "The cats did it," she said emphatically.

Supporting her position in the cat matter was a neighbor who said she also loves animals but, "I keep my animals penned up." (She now has a mother dog and five puppies.)

"I love all animals," explained the cat trap woman. "I just don't want them where they don't belong." She later explained that she and her husband had a dog for 14 years that never got out of the backyard.

IN TRYING to sort out the story, one big mystery remains: both sides claim the county truck has made several calls to the Longfellow drive home to remove cats from the trap and take them away. Ditore however, declared there was no record of any pickups made at that address.

Pumpkin's owner claims at least 12 trips have been made to that home during the past 9 or 10 months. The woman with the trap says there have been several and her neighbor commented, "They're out here constantly (the trucks)." The county department later acknowledged one call (to pick up Pumpkin) but still maintains there were no others.

CAT TRAPS are not uncommon here, Animal Control Officer Lou Belfort later explained. "There's a lot of traps in the Los Gatos area but only this one that I know of near White Oaks road." (The officer who patrols Campbell proper was out sick Friday and could not be contacted).

But Belfort is no fan of the traps.

"I just don't like them," he declared, explaining that there isn't any leash law for cats in the first place and, "if you put a trap out you're encouraging cats to come around (with the bait)."

LOCAL LAWS regarding cats are no big help in the issue either.

First, most city ordinances say animals are not allowed to run at large, and local laws don't exclude cats from that restriction.

But, on the other hand, there are no leash laws or licensing requirements for cats either. "They're basically considered to be free spirited animals," Ditore explained.

And then again it would be almost impossible to license cats since ownership is very difficult to establish. One person may feed a cat for six months and still consider it a stray while a family may pamper their tabby for two years and have the fickle creature move in with the neighbors without the twitch of a whisker.

AND THAT independent nature of cats is what leads Pumpkin's owner to believe that most cats caught in traps never get back home.

"Who's going to think anything of a cat being gone for a day or two?," was her reasoning. Cats removed from traps are supposed to be held for three days at the Humane Society shelter.

The basic issue to her though is with traps in general and the one near her home in particular.

"I feel cats ought to be allowed to roam," the young woman declared. "Cats are territorial creatures."

The mother cat had been neutered before her disappearance while Pumpkin, seven months old, didn't get his operation until after his experience with the trap.

But just as soon as he could the orange and white kitty was up and about the neighborhood and trouble again. He made a beeline for that Longfellow drive home last week and was chased out of the backyard.

"I no more got inside than I looked out the window and there he was climbing the tree out front," the woman complained. She put in a call to Pumpkin's owner, asking her to pick up her rover. She also related that the trap will be baited again.

WITH THE woman's home near Highway 17, we speculated that maybe part of her problem with too many cat visitors was more complex than their stalking the birds that light in the silk tree. Maybe they're strays being dropped off on the roadway.

"No. They're definitely not," her neighbor retorted. "You can tell from the way they meow and cry to get out of the trap that they're somebody's pet."

So, if local cat owners suddenly find their pets among the missing it could be a simple case of carousing. But if they're not back in a day a quick trip to the Humane Society might be in order.

Former ACO critical

Charges leveled against county animal control

By PAT SAFFORD

IF COUNTY animal control takes on services now handled by the Humane Society, they're going to have to do some housecleaning of their own first, says a former Animal Control Officer.

Ed Clarke, who resigned from the department in September after three years, alleged Monday that inhumane treatment of animals and inefficiency in the county department has been an ongoing problem.

Among charges he leveled were that animal control officers (ACO's) have "stolen" dogs bound for the shelter and sold them, that injured animals are allowed to stay in county trucks for hours before being taken to the shelter and that a serious lack of training of ACO's is the cause of most problems in the animal control division.

Two weeks ago Clarke testified before the Grand Jury committee investigating allegations against the Humane Society and earlier appeared before the task force appointed by county supervisors to look into allegations against the Humane Society.

THE FORMER ACO says he feels both departments need investigating and that he made that clear during testimony before the Grand Jury.

"I'm afraid my interview with the (grand jury) committee may have done the task force a disservice," Clarke contended. "I talked about the problems with animal control as well as the Society. But I felt they didn't want to hear about (the county department)."

The man, now self-employed, did have a few things to say about the Society too, though. Like how attendants get around the 72 hour holding period for cats caught in traps.

ACO'S BROUGHT in the cats with a "cat caught in trap" notation of their tag. This was to insure the felines weren't destroyed immediately. An exception to that rule, Clarke says, was that animals classified as wild could be disposed of right away.

"So they (the attendants) would just poke the sharp end of a pencil into the cage (and into the cat) until the creature hissed or reacted. Then they'd just write "wild" on the tag.

Another method, Clarke says, was to decide the cat was sick (ill animals can also be destroyed immediately).

"They'd look at a perfectly healthy looking cat and say, 'I think this cat has distemper'."

Some ACO's just didn't care what happened to the animals once they were dropped off, but Clarke and others did. He says he used to use a ruse to make sure the cats weren't killed right away.

"For instance I'd tell (the attendants), 'A guy's coming in tomorrow morning to pick up his cat.' Or he'd swear that the trapped cat was a neighborhood cat that the owner would be sure to miss.

CLARKE SAYS when he first joined the department in 1973 he noticed that ACO's didn't get proper training. "Not even in how to operate the equipment."

As an example he told of his first day out with an experienced ACO. The man drove the truck through every puddle of water he could find. "When I asked him what he was doing he told me he wanted to give the man coming on duty the next shift something to worry about." In this case, Clarke says, that worry would be with spongy or no brakes at all on the county truck.

HIS FIRST experience with neglect of animals, he says, happened shortly after when they picked up a cat that had been shot with a steel arrow. "The ACO didn't take it into the Humane Society but kept driving around all day.

"I learned he was keeping it as an excuse for going (into the shelter) early. When you drive in with an injured animal at 2 p.m., by the time you get the paper work done there isn't time to get back out in the field."

Carrying injured animals around for hours isn't unusual, Clarke says, but the reason isn't always trying to get out of the field early.

"There was no one at the shelter to take care of the animals anyway." The veteranarian on duty came on at 9 a.m., Clarke related, "and left about 9:30 a.m." So if you got the animal in at noon or 1 p.m. it wouldn't been seen until the next morning anyway.

IN HIS CRITICISM of the department, Clarke made it clear he's not using a broad brush approach. "Most of the ACO's are fine workers who care. And they could be better if they had the proper training and direction."

Of the approximately 45 ACO's on the staff, Clarke estimates 6 to 8 are the "rabble rousers." Like the 5 or 6 who were caught playing poker at the shelter instead of out on patrol. Or the ones who won't cross the street to pick up an injured or dead animal if its out of their territory.

"If the department had leadership they could get rid of the bad apples," Clarke declares.

THE MAN ALSO contends that if anyone ever wanted to check on some of the night crew, they'd find the men drive out of the yard and directly home, "for dinner and to watch TV." Those ACO's use a devise, called a Ring

Chief says some charges are just 'unbelievable'

NEAL BOHNET, chief of animal control for the county, acknowledged Monday that some of what Ed Clarke contends is true about the department. But some of it, he adds, "is just unbelievable."

"Things aren't nearly as bad as he says," Bohnet commented.

And something is already being done about some of the problems, like the lack of a vet on duty at the shelter.

"The county is going to hire their own vet to be there eight hours a day so animals that are injured can receive immediate care," he said. A meeting was held this week to draw up a contract for the new county staffer.

"I AGREE THE training program should be improved," Bohnet added, "but we have been doing something about it."

Like a recent six week training course for animal control officers in effective communication (To help them handle situations with irate pet owners). So far, half of the staff has taken the course.

Of the specific recommendations for training Clarke outlined, his former chief says most are already in the planning stages or are being done now.

Like "how to drive vehicles". All ACO's now take a defensive driving course.

A COURSE will be starting soon in how to handle livestock, Bohnet says and they hope to get a first aid class going with the new county vet.

The Chief says he doesn't remember if Clarke was really offered the job of administrative assistant.

"As I remember he didn't qualify for the job," Bohnet says.

While he does concur with some of the incidents Clarke spoke of (the dog stealing and poker playing), he says he just can't believe some of the other things have happened.

"I HAVEN'T heard of that," he said of "wild" cat handling, "We couldn't possibly condone anything like that."

And what about Clarke's contention that animal control shouldn't take on the operation of the shelter?

"We have our own shelter in San Martin now, run by the county, and we have no problems with it," Bohnet replied. "I invite anyone, anytime to come down and take a look."

HE FEELS THE main reason for good operations at that south county shelter is that his department has "good control over it."

And, if his department is charged with taking on the main shelter, they can handle that too.

"Just as long as we get the money to build one."

There is a turkey in Campbell

THERE IS a live turkey in Campbell after all. Or very close to the city. Mark and Patricia Marchetti have a gibbler at their Hedegard home and last week challenged our contention that you can't find a turkey when you need one. Catching one however, is another story as three-year-old Michelle found out.

(Photography by Gordon Lew)

His story had a lot of holes

A 48 year old Campbell man was booked for driving under the influence of alcohol last week, after his story about the one car accident on Pollard road west of Abbott failed to hold water.

The man claimed he was forced off the road by a car pulling out of a nearby apartment complex.

Witnesses however, said there were not other cars in sight.

He later registered .210 on the blood test for alcohol (.10 is considered intoxicated) and was booked into county jail.

How to save gas and money, and get a bonus for doing it.

If you get a pilotless gas range, you can get this spice rack, free.

We're not encouraging you to buy a new gas range. But if you do, we want you to know that many manufacturers are offering pilotless ignition models.

The advantage is easy to see. Forty percent of the gas used by a conventional gas range is just to keep the pilot operating 24 hours a day. But a pilotless range can save that 40%, so you'll save precious gas energy, and money, too.

If you buy a pilotless ignition gas range from a "We Care" dealer between now and November 30, your dealer will hand you a spice rack and set of 12 spices with a retail value of $12.95.

This program is sponsored by the Electric & Gas Industries Association, as part of a campaign to conserve energy, and PG&E is proud to be part of it.

So, if you need a new gas range, don't buy just any model. Get one with a pilotless ignition – it really saves energy.

It's a case of en'trap'ment

The cat trap story brings up one issue that needs comment.

By baiting these traps with fish local trappers are setting up a case of moral, if not legal, entrapment for the felines.

It's one thing to confine a stary who is in your yard. It's quite another to coax cats from throughout the neighborhood with the smell of fresh fish.

We concur with the animal control officer who suggests two new criteria to be used for all cat trap users.

Lou Belfort says the cat should be a repeated unwelcome visitor and should have caused some sort of property damage before being trapped and hauled away.

Right now, county policy says officers are to inform those who use cat traps that they should inform their neighbors before baiting them. This way cat owners have a chance to confine their pets or to get them back from the Humane Society if they are captured.

But, as one county staffer commented, "most wouldn't dare tell their neighbors."

FROM WALNUT TO OAK

Last week the Saratoga Horticultural Foundation announced they've found another likely candidate to honor as a Bicentennial Tree, after Campbell's black walnut turned out to be a "fraud."

Tree surgeon Lee Lesh, who earlier announced Campbell's twin walnuts at Harrison Park were well over the required 200 years of age, last week came up with a hefty oak at Branham lane and Tampico Way in San Jose.

The problem with Campbell's trees was that they were not old, just obese from an overabundance of water. They were planted near an old irrigation ditch.

Lesh used the same method for determining the age of the new San Jose tree candidate; measuring the circumference and says that oak tree is about 282 years old.

So far, no one's disputing his claim.

It could be that the oak tree is indeed that old.

Or, San Jose's historian-types may not be quite as eagle-eyed.

Dedication ceremonies in San Jose are scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 19.

A TOUGH GIFT CHOICE

What do you give someone who's just turned 100? Aside from a gold watch or ring, it can present a problem.

And that delightful problem faced Ben and Dora Sweeney of Campbell recently as they attended the 100th birthday celebration of her aunt, Carrie Hogan who now resides in a San Jose convalescent hospital.

In addition to a big birthday cake the local couple got her some new smocks and a lap robe, by the way.

And when Ben asked her the standard question on such occasions; How does it feel to be 100 years old?, Carrie's reply was novel.

None of this "fine" or "its great" for Carrie. Savs she, "It feels like I'm 100 years old."

Hamilton expects to fight a big development. Especially, since its already so far along. Why didn't they come forward sooner?

Westside resident

Editor's note: A couple of the leaders of the newly activated Hamilton Area Improvement Association told me they hadn't heard about it before.

Some progress! That old home on the corner of Hamilton and Bascom avenue is beautiful. I can see why they want to build on the old orchard but they should leave the house alone.

History Buff

Editor's note: They are . . . leaving it alone. At the express wishes of the owners, that building will not be touched . . . at least for the foreseeable future.

I've gotten reports of a parent's group that has been meeting at Castlemont School lately for the purpose of fighting some of the incumbants coming up for reelection to the Campbell elementary (school board) next year. Who are they against?

Interested

Editor's note: The group has been formed, leaders say, not to oppose candidates but to endorse those they feel are best suited for the job; incumbent or not. They're now working out a list of questions for those who plan to run but feel its a little premature to announce things now since filing for the three seats coming up for reelection doesn't start until December. We will have the story in the next week or two.

SHOWING OFF one of the holiday items to be demonstrated at this Saturday's Holiday Craft Workshop at the Campbell Library is Masel Sheehan. The program begins at 1 p.m. in the downstairs Community Room.

Sales tax picture is bright locally

HOME FURNISHING and appliance stores in Campbell continue to be the leader in bringing tax revenues to the city, but the eating and drinking spots are narrowing that lead.

Reports for the second quarter, ending July 31, show $7.1 million for home furnishing sales with $5.9 million for the entertainment spots.

Total taxable sales were $49.2 million for the quarter compared to $20.1 million for Milpitas, $27.2 million for Los Gatos and $37.1 million for Cupertino.

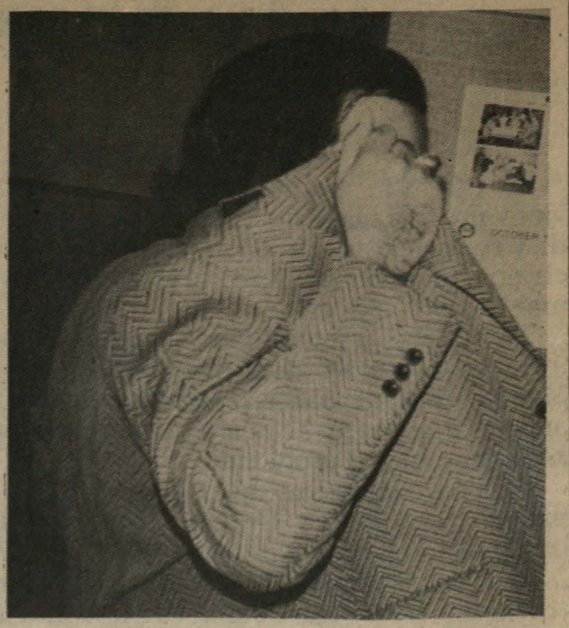
Lowest category for Campbell was auto dealers and auto supplies, with $435,000 in sales and liquor stores with $931,000.

FOOD STORES reported $2.3 million in sales for the quarter, with a similar total for apparel shops. Building and farm materials businesses raked in $4 million while service stations tallied $3.4 million.

California cities that compare with Campbell's sales tax volumns (within $3 million) include Vallejo, Arcadia, Eureka, Corvina and Santa Maria.

For those that like to boast, we can claim we've topped Santa Cruz ($44.4 million), San Bruno ($41.2 million), Monterey ($38.5 million), San Luis Obispo ($38.1 million) and Merced ($41.5 million).

BUT BEFORE we get swelled heads over our sales tax showing, it might be well to add that the leader of the pack for the last quarter was Los Angeles city with $2.5 billion in sales.



Who's this?

GUESS who the bashful person is? It begins with five letters, something you have around the house and you won't get anything but the satisfaction of knowing you were right for your guess. The answer (and story) will be in next week's PRESS.

ARMED ROBBERY

Campbell Liquors on E. Campbell ave. was robbed of over $800 at gunpoint last Saturday, according to police reports.

A man reportedly entered the store and asked for wine and cigarettes and told the clerk he'd forgotten his wallet.

He then waited outside until other customers had left before returning to rob the store.

ACCIDENT ON THE LOOP

An elderly couple suffered serious injuries when their car went out of control colliding with a city car on Campbell ave. near Dillon Friday.

Admitted to the hospital were Marion and Edwin Parker of Campbell.

According to reports, the city car, driven by building inspector Ed Finley, turned left off of Dillon ave. onto Campbell ave. when the Parker's car, traveling east on Campbell ave. struck it.

Investigators believe the woman may have stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake, sending the car through a cyclone fence and into the shingle yard on Railway.

Police are seeking a complaint against Finley for failing to yield to through traffic.

Wilson Riles' report

Basic skills improvements claimed for state's pupils

A DECLINE in the scores of California's 12th graders in reading, writing and mathematics has been reversed, Wilson Riles, state superintendent of public instruction, told members of the State Board of Education last week.

The improved scores for the state's high school seniors, accompanied by a continuation of improved scores in other grades tested, were disclosed in the results of the 1975-76 testing effort conducted by the California Assessment Program.

The tests involved all of the state's 1.15 million second, third, sixth and 12th grade pupils.

"The scores at all four grade levels were better in all subjects tested than in 1974-75," Riles said.

Other highlights of the test results:

- Reading scores were up 2 per cent for sixth graders, up 0.6 per cent for 12th graders, up 0.1 per cent for both second and third graders.
- Math scores were up 2.4 per cent for sixth graders and up 1.6 per cent for 12th graders.
- Written expression scores were up 0.9 per cent for sixth graders and up 0.7 per cent for 12th graders.

"Improved scores for our sixth graders in 1975-76 are particularly significant," Riles pointed out, "because they confirm the upward trends reported by test results in 1974-75. Between 1969-70 and 1973-74, a steady, year-after-year decline had been reported."

SCORES FOR reading at both the second and third grade were estimated to be slightly above the national average.

Areas of weakness also remained the same: word meanings and the meanings of roots, prefixes and suffixes. The Primary Grades Reading Assessment Advisory Committee, a group of reading authorities appointed by the California State Department of Education, noted that these weaknesses deserve special attention because they can cause serious reading difficulties for youngsters in later years. Additional emphasis needs to be placed on the development of vocabulary skills at the second and third grade level, the committee said.

Another committee, set up to analyze and interpret the reading results for sixth and 12th graders, said it was satisfied with the ability of sixth graders to answer questions about explicitly stated material, but it was dissatisfied with their performance in all other areas.

ALTHOUGH students at the 12th grade level improved in mathematics skills, they were still performing below the national average, Riles said. However, improved 1975-76 mathematics scores for California's sixth grade pupils raised their average achievement level to the national average.

The Mathematics Assessment Advisory Committee, appointed by the Department to analyze and interpret the results, said sixth graders made significant gains in math.

Copies of the new assessment report, "Student Achievement in California Schools — 1975-76 Annual Report," are available for $1.25 plus 6 per cent sales tax for California residents, from Publications Sales, P.O. Box 271, Sacramento, 95802.

Real contests are shaping up for Saturday's big fun run

There are some real rivalries shaping up for this Saturday's Turkey Trot Fun Run, sponsored by Campbell Community Services.

But the livliest is between the Campbell police and fire departments.

Both sides are claiming victory in the event that gets underway Nov. 20 at 9 a.m. at John D. Morgan park.

According to Captain Ron Eddlemon of the Police Department, "There's not a fireman alive that can beat a police officer."

But Al Lowder, president of Campbell Fire Fighters local 1939 had some words of rebuttal.

"As long as they don't use their night sticks to beat us," Lowder retorted, "they don't have a chance.

While the 4.5 mile run (or jog or walk) offers prizes to individual runners rather than groups, several match races appeared to be shaping up this week between local schools and clubs.

Entry fee is $1 and pre-registration is being taken at City Hall, 75 N. Central ave.

But you can also just don your tennis shoes and show up that morning. Sign-ups start at 7:30 a.m.

Refreshments and ribbons await those who cross the finish line at Los Gatos Creek County Park.

Winners in each of the 10 divisions will receive turkeys while those who place will get an official "Turkey Trot" T-shirt.

For more information call Community Services at 378-8141, ext. 252.

FLU SHOT AGE LOWERED

The age limit has been lowered for persons eligible to receive the bivalent immunization for protection against both Victoria and Swine flu strains.

The state department of health announced last week they're now accepting anyone 45 or older for the shots.

For information about the next locally scheduled clinic call 298-2686.

PRACTICING their racing style for this Saturday's Fun run are members of the Campbell Area Youth Sports Association, co-sponsors of the event. Runners include Rick Schaffer (Campbell Little League), Tom Anderson (West Valley Soccer Club), Dewey Reed (Campbell Bobby Sox) and Merv Mack (West Valley Touchdown Club).

Taste Barrier Broken.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough ends struggle to bring taste to low tar smoking.

For years, dependency on tar for taste has created a taste barrier for low tar smoking.

Now that barrier has been broken. Broken for good by a remarkable new cigarette called MERIT.

MERIT is packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

The result of a radical new discovery so successful at boosting flavor, MERIT actually delivers the taste of cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

Yet MERIT has only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

Tests Verify Taste

MERIT was taste-tested against current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as much—or more—taste.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette.

Office innovation ideas to be shared

How "white sound" saves tax dollars will be told at the Open Space Conference in San Jose Nov. 18 in the award-winning offices of the Santa Clara County School Department.

"We want to share our experience with open space planning," said Dr. Glenn W. Hoffmann, county schools chief.

Use of the so-called white sound to dilute or obscure office noise will be one of the innovations discussed at the areawide conference.

Two years ago the County Office of Education brought all of its scattered operations under one roof by leasing a huge building vacated by Gem department store, a discount house located off North First street near the Municipal Airport.

Renovation of the store gave the county education office colorful and efficient space for its varied activities, according to Hoffmann.

"We also won a national award from Administrative Management magazine," the superintendent said.

The day-long workshop will feature: administrative planning, management of construction work, indoor landscape architecture, and maintenance and general problems.

Cost of the space approaches half that of similar locations in other parts of Santa Clara Valley, Hoffmann said.

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

© Bea Rene 1975

For the first time in 20 years, John Bikakis' ECHO RESTAURANT in Los Altos w/be open on Thanksgiving Day, serving a spectacular Turkey dinner w/all the trimmings for only $4.95. They'll serve from 2 p.m. & this w/be a treat for the whole family. John tells me, however, that other dinners w/be served from $3.50 up & there'll be a spec. $2.50 dinner for the kiddies. Remember the ECHO'S dinner incl. garlic bread, cheese cup, soup, salad, rolls, coffee & dessert. Reserve now!

Instead of cooking a turkey on Thanksgiving, your family w/save time & money by going to a fine restaurant like the SHIRT TAIL in Palo Alto. Festive holiday dinners like Roast Tom Turkey, giblet gravy, apple & chestnut dressing, candied yams & cranberry sauce, complete w/soup, salad & relish tray, w/be only $6.50! From 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. you can also dine on Virginia Baked Ham, Roast Prime Ribs & Filet Mignon Champagne, all in their new, supperclub setting. Dancing & 1st show starts at 8 p.m. Reservations recommended.

The colorful interior decor of CLEMENTINE'S RESTAURANT is one of the most fascinating on the peninsula, featuring decor from the 20's & 30's w/huge silk shades in lovely colors & pictures of the past. They're open for lunch, dinner & Sun. brunch & feature "Airwaves" a 6 pc. group featuring Rick Beller on the xylophone. Their female vocalist is the daughter of the man who wrote "Evolution of the Blues" — Michele Hendrix. Entertainment Wed. — Sat., 9-1:30 a.m. CLEMENTINE'S would be a marvelous place to dine & linger on to dance away the evening.

If you enjoy "getting away from it all" & by midweek are rather "up-tight" w/the daily routine, why don't you drive out in the country to Portola Valley where you'll find the charming MALONEY'S RESTAURANT tucked in among the Redwood trees on Portola Rd. Easy to find — North on 280, east on Sandhill Rd. (that's how I find it) & it'll be well worth the drive. They're open 7 days for dinner only but their cocktail lounge is always filled w/a congenial crowd.

The lovely FONDU POT RESTAURANT w/be closed on Thanksgiving; however, many of my readers have called to tell me of their great satisfaction in this unique & entertaining way of dining. In addition to a variety of excellent fondues, the FONDU POT also serves a very inexpensive $2 - $3 lunch for those who wish to run in for a quick sandwich & soup. Everything is gourmet & home-cooked by that great Chef Herman Pfammatter of Switzerland.

GRANNY'S ATTIC on Almaden Exp. is going "all out" for Thanksgiving, serving a choice of Turkey, Prime Rib or Ham; soup, salad, baked potatoes, yams or mashed potatoes, & all the trimmings for only $5.95. You'll still be able to order drinks priced 2 for 1 w/your dinner & the whole family will enjoy the unique decor — Remember your grandmothers attic? That's exactly what this looks like only better. Call for reservations today.

The charming garden-like atmosphere of the GAZEBO in Los Gatos is available to diners on Thanksgiving Day when Mgr. Peter Musset serves a great Thanksgiving Dinner at reg. moderate prices. You'll have a choice of Roast Turkey w/all the trimmings, Roast Duck, Prime Rib, Steaks, & Seafood selections, served w/soup & salad, bread & butter, vegs., potatoes & coffee. You may dine from 11 a.m. until as late as 8 p.m. . . . a treat for the whole family!

I have always shied away from the proverbial chain restaurant, all those uniforms, orange booths & overpriced menus! It was a pleasure to step into SIRLOIN AND BREW UNLIMITED in Fremont. Each waitress is refreshingly dressed in her own smart clothes & the restaurant has its own distinctive Early California decor (even the exteriors of ea. location is different). The UNLIMITED policy is uniform, however — all the salad you can eat, pitchers of cold beer or sangria or bottles of wine w/steak dinners, starting at $4.69.

Rob joins the rank of eagle

There's more space for book browsing at the West Valley branch library these days thanks to Rob Bates, a Prospect high school freshman.

The 13 year old earned his Boy Scout Eagle rank by enlarging the bookshelves at the library and by sorting into chronological sequence over 80 boxes of magazines. Rob's Eagle Court of Honor was held last Monday at Payne school

In addition to his scouting activities, Rob, the son of Robert and Dale Bates, 4531 Latimer ave., is a member of the Prospect high school band, varsity chess team and for two years was a CAMPBELL PRESS carrier.

Bruins nip Westmont

Warriors still in race despite loss

"WE'RE STILL in it," maintained Westmont head coach Don Stagnaro. "A lot can happen in two weeks."

But despite his optimism, Stagnaro couldn't mask the disappointment of last Wednesday's crucial 13-12 defeat at the hands of the league leading Branham Bruins.

Although the loss left them far from being out of contention for the West Valley Athletic League crown, a win would have put the Warriors in a very enviable position.

"We had several opportunities to win the game," lamented Stagnaro. "But we made key mistakes."

Most of the mistakes came in the form of turnovers, five in all. Interceptions ended both of the Warriors final two drives of the day.

The loss dropped the up again, down again Warriors to 3-3 in WVAL play with just two weeks to go on the schedule.

Branham pulled into sole possession of first place with a 4-2 mark.

The Warriors travel to Prospect (3-3) Friday afternoon for a 2:45 p.m. contest with the Panthers. The loser of that game will more than likely fall from title contention.

"They are a very aggressive and very scrappy outfit," Stagnaro said of the Panthers. "It should be a very entertaining game."

AFTER falling behind 6-0 at the end of one quarter last week, the Warriors grabbed a 12-6 halftime lead with a pair of second period scores.

Rocky Pena, who caught six passes for 92 yards on the day, hauled in a 10 yard scoring toss from quarterback Randy Scacutto to complete a 60 yard drive in the opening minutes of the second period.

Scacutto and Pena hooked up on a 26 yard play to highlight the drive while Eric Stark had carried the ball twice for a pick-up of 31 yards.

Later in the quarter Scacutto hurled a 10 yard touchdown pass to Greg Athearn to cap a 55 yard mark. Athearn caught four passes for 44 yards in all.

But the Warrior offense failed to generate a single point in the second half while Branham managed to push across one fourth period score and extra point.

Spoiled in the loss was the brilliant return of Stark, Westmont's ace running back. Making his first appearance since separating his shoulder three weeks ago, rambled for 127 yards on 22 carries.

Scacutto accounted for most of the remaining Westmont yardage by completing 10 of 17 passes for 137 yards.

Defensively, the Warriors were led by Craig Scadden, Pat Riley and Matt Lorango.

Last week's contest marked the fifth straight week the Warriors had been involved in a one point game. Westmont's record during that five game stretch is just 3-2.

Grid forecasters suffer off week

WELL IT had to happen. We couldn't go on forever. After seven consecutive winning weeks in the Santa Teresa Athletic League, this paper's grid forecasters finally hit a slump.

We were right on only two of our four picks last week in the STAL, lowering our overall record to 35-11.

But it was still better than what we did in the West Valley Athletic League, where we were only 2-3, dropping our overall mark to an embarrassing 23-21.

The STAL wraps up its season this week and hopefully we can go out with a bang.

Pioneer, seeking its third straight win, travels to Gunderson Friday afternoon for a 3 p.m. test. The Mustangs should triumph by seven.

San Jose visits Lincoln for a renewal of their annual Big Bone game. The Lions are hot and should win by 12 in their 3 p.m. battle Friday.

Live Oak treks to Gilroy Friday night for an 8 p.m. meeting with the Mustangs and should romp by 24.

Saturday night, league champ Leland takes on Willow Glen at San Jose City College in a 7:30 p.m. match. The Chargers will win by 18.

Four Friday afternoon tilts are on tap in the WVAL. Westmont visits Prospect and should triumph by six. Branham hosts Camden and is favored to win by three. Leigh travels to Blackford where the Longhorns will be six point underdogs. Del Mar should come away a six point winner when it visits Campbell. All four games are set for 2:45 p.m.

In a non-league encounter, Los Gatos welcomes the Saratoga Falcons Friday night at 8 p.m. The Falcons, who used to win the WVAL crown with regularity, are 12 point favorites in this one.

Hunter safety roles up in '76

The number of persons successfully completing hunter safety training in California during September was up sharply this year from the figures for 1975 and 1974, the Department of Fish and Game reported.

Completing the training — which includes gun safety, sportsmanship and principles of conservation — during September 1976 were 12,440 persons, 5,684 or 42.5 per cent of them 18 years old or older.

The totals for September 1975 and 1974 were 10,813 and 10,578, respectively. Inspector James O. Holven, DFG hunter safety training officer, said that September generally is the busiest month of the year for the department's 2,300 or so volunteer instructors.

The September figure brought to 37,531 the number of persons trained in the state during the first nine months this year. Included were 14,931 or 39.8 per cent who were adults.

The September record — and the program's most productive month — was in 1973 when 13,624 persons were trained.

As of the end of September 1976, a grand total of 886,307 students — adults and children — had received the training in California's program, which was instituted 22 years ago.

Dons fall from title contention

"OFFENSIVELY, we did nothing," complained Del Mar head coach Jim Clifton.

And offensively, that was all the Dons scored in their game against Los Gatos last Friday -- nothing.

The Dons became one of only two teams to mathematically fall out of title contention last week when they fell 14-0 at the hands of the defending West Valley Athletic League champion Wildcats.

"Defensively, we didn't do all that badly," noted Clifton. "Offensively, we did nothing."

The loss left the Dons record at 2-3-1 with just two games remaining, eliminating them from further title contention along with the Campbell Buccaneers (2-4).

An injury to running back Bob Oneta early in the game "took the starch out of us," according to Clifton.

Oneta was forced to the sidelines with a badly bruised lower back. He tried to come back later in the contest but was ineffective.

"It was a physical game," noted Clifton. "There was a lot of good hitting."

Doing the good hitting for the Dons were Oreglia, Jim Slaugherty, Clifton Warren and Ernie Watkins.

The Dons and Bucs clash in a battle of the also rans Friday afternoon at Campbell in a 2:45 p.m. contest.

"They're big," Clifton said of the Bucs. "You have to stop their running game or they'll blow you out."

Bell, Blobaum top DM stats

The start of the second half was postponed for at least a week last Sunday for the Del Mar Rainbows.

The Rainbows had their second half opener in Winter League Semi-Pro baseball pushed back a week by wet grounds last Sunday at Mitty high school where they were to have met the Hawks.

Del Mar will return to Mitty this Sunday for a rescheduled double header with the Hawks. Game times at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. The Rainbows will play a non-league game Wednesday evening at PAL Stadium beginning at 6 p.m.

The Rainbows finished the first half with a 7-6-1 record and five players above the .300 mark in batting.

Player-manager Gary Cunningham led all Rainbow hitters with a torrid .640 batting average. Hitting in all 14 of Del'Mar's first half games, Cunningham stroked 25 hits in 39 bats.

Sophomore Tom Bell was the only other DM batter above .400, ripping the ball at a .419 clip (13 for 31) in addition to leading the Rainbows in runs-batted-in with 10.

ERIC RICHESIN hit .340 (16 for 47) and led the club in steals (11) and runs scored (13) in addition to hitting in 12 straight games.

Craig Richesin, Eric's younger brother, hit .333 (10 for 30) and Karl Martin batted .316 (six for 19).

Catcher Jim Dorr chipped in with a .273 mark and Mike Rusconi hit .250.

Third baseman Tom Medica batted only .225 but scored 12 runs, batted in eight and played brilliant defense at the hot corner.

Jeff Blobaum was the Rainbows' top pitcher with a 3-2 record and a sparkling 1.44 earned run average.

Bell was 2-2 and fanned 30 batters in 30 innings of work. He had a fine ERA of 2.99. Mark Intrieri was 2-1 with a 2.40 ERA and 20 whiffs in 23 innings.

Mooney to fill Sunbird void?

By DAVE MENDONCA

WHEN GENERAL manager John Bruno headed for Chicago Oct. 27, for the second annual Women's Professional Softball League's winter meeting, he had no idea that star third sacker Brenda Gamblin had joined a list of six malcontents who no longer wanted to play for the San Jose Sunbirds.

Gamblin's decision would have left a tremendous void in the Sunbird infield alignment. But by sheer coincidence, Bruno may have filled that void with his first round draft pick for 1976.

Lynn Mooney, an eight year veteran third sacker of the Sun City Saints in Arizona, was the Sunbirds' first round pick and now figures to be their starter at the hot corner if they can lure her out of the amatuer ranks.

"I felt we needed someone to back up Gamblin in case she got hurt," explained Bruno. "I didn't know she wouldn't be coming back. We'll be trying hard to sign Mooney now."

Although an eight year veteran, Mooney is just 24 years old. An Arizona State graduate, the Sun City blonde can also play second and shortstop, a key reason for her selection.

"We're trying to cut our squad down to 14 players this season," noted Bruno, whose club carried an 18 woman roster last year. "We want as many multi-purpose players as possible."

With versatility in mind, the Sunbirds' remaining draft picks, in order, were Judy Hoke, outfielder from Sun City; Cindy Reynolds, first sacker from Lodi; Judy Harvey, third sacker from Chico; Karen Capps, catcher-outfielder from Chico; Cis Schaeffer, infielder-outfielder from Sunnyvale; Pat Bradley, shortstop from Hayward; Bridgette Stewart, pitcher-outfielder from the Santa Clara Spinners; Sheryl Ambler, infielder from the Santa Clara Spinners; Cheryl Pincombe, second sacker from Sacramento; Valerie Filice, a third sacker from Gilroy; and Rhonda Clark, a 16 year old pitcher from Vacaville.

AMBLER is the older sister of San Jose Sunbird second sacker Karen Ambler.

The Sunbirds' draft picks become very important in view of the fact six of the West division champions have let it be known that they do not want to play for San Jose next year. The six malcontents include all-stars Gamblin, Charlotte Graham and Mary Lou Pennington as well as Allie Henderson, Janice Aubuchon and Cyndi Lillock. Lillock, who was recently place on waivers, was drafted by the Santa Ana Lionettes in Chicago.

Bruno is currently working on a number of trades involving the remaining five. One trade revolves around the possibility of acquiring WPSL home run queen Maryann Cardillo of Buffalo. The Breski's are interested in Graham.

"The outlook for the Sunbirds is very good despite the fact that six of our players want to go elsewhere," noted Bruno.

In addition to Lillock, Nancy Plantz, who was also placed on waivers at the end of the '76 season, was drafted by the Pennsylvania Liberties. Julie Tyner, who had been dropped from San Jose's protected list, was drafted by the new Bakersfield franchise.

In other developments at the WPSL meeting, the league rules committee voted to move the mound back from 40 feet to 44 feet in an effort to bolster the league's anemic hitting.

"Last year, out of 600 games played, 20 per cent of the games were decided by 1-0 scores and another 15 per cent were decided by 2-1 scores," related Bruno. "And out of 170 hitters in the league, only eight hit over .300."

The league also has decided to cut its schedule back from 120 games to around 100.

Bruno announced last week that 12 per cent of the Sunbird corporation is still available to the public. Anyone interested in buying stock in the team can call 287-0900 for further information.

The Sunbird general manager also announced that season ticket sales for the 1977 season are currently underway. A free pocket calculator will be given away to season ticket purchasers who beat the Dec. 1, Early Bird deadline.

Camden deals Braves crucial 27-20 loss

BLACKFORD'S dream of capturing the West Valley Athletic League football championship was dealt a severe blow last Wednesday when the Braves suffered a 27-20 setback at the hands of the Camden Cougars.

After trailing 20-6 at one point early in the second period, Blackford rallied to tie the game at 20-20 before halftime. But Camden ultimately won the contest in the fourth period when Tom Gazay batted a Scott Conn pass into the air and into the hands of Cougar defensive lineman Kevin Ansberry, who rambled 48 yards with the interception for a game winning touchdown.

The loss dropped Blackford's record to 3-3-1, a half game in back of league leading Branham (4-2). The Braves wrap-up their WVAL season Friday afternoon at home against the Leigh Longhorns in a 2:45 p.m. test.

Leigh, which lost its first three games of the season, takes a three game winning streak into Friday's battles with Blackford.

After Camden had built up a 13-0 first quarter lead last Wednesday, Blackford got back into the ballgame in the opening minutes of the second period on a one yard touchdown plunge by Mike Turnwall.

The Cougars came right back with a touchdown of their own to go ahead 20-6. But the Braves weren't done yet.

Matt Kimura bolted 68 yards for a touchdown and Jack Little capped another sustained Blackford drive with a one yard TD run. Brett Eastman booted extra points after both touchdowns to give the Braves a tie at the half.

Panthers hold fate in their own hands

IF THE PROSPECT Panthers fail to capture the West Valley Athletic League football championship, they'll have nobody to blame but themselves.

"We have command of the situation," Panther head coach Earl Adams pointed out. "If we win the next two games we'll win the championship."

The Panthers, who snapped a three game losing streak with a 21-19 non-league victory over Cupertino last Saturday night, have only the Westmont Warriors and the league leading Branham Bruins left on their schedule.

Prospect plays host to Westmont (3-3) Friday afternoon in a 2:45 p.m. contest on the Panthers' field. The loser of that game will more than likely be eliminated from title contention.

Prospect's hopes for the WVAL title were bolstered quite a bit by last week's win over Cupertino. It wasn't the win that enhanced the Panthers' title chances as much as the performance of running back Rick Asturias.

Asturias, who missed most of the season with a cracked fractured right shoulder blade, came back last week to turn in a remarkable effort that led the Panthers to their win.

ASTURIAS CARRIED the ball 14 times for 89 yards, caught five passes for 93 yards and scored two touchdowns, including the game winner.

After Asturias gave the Panthers a 15-0 lead late in the first half with a six yard touchdown run, the Prospect senior erased a 19-15 Cupertino lead with only 28 seconds left in the game when he caught Steve Hill's four yard paydirt pass.

The Panthers' winning drive began way back at the Prospect 38 yard line with only 4:10 left to be played. But Hill combined three complete passes with scrambles of nine and 15 yards to give the Panthers a first and goal to go situation at the Cupertino four yard line with 58 seconds left on the clock.

After a quarterback sneak and pass attempt were unsuccessful, Hill hurled his TD pass to Austrias.

Hill wound up the day with seven completes in 12 attempts for 195 yards. The Panther quarterback also scored the winner's first touchdown of the day, on a one yard qb sneak, and later added a two point conversion.

The 26-year-old second-generation speedway star who finished fifth in this year's rain-shortened Indianapolis 500 driving Dan Gurney's Jorgenson Steel Eagle, has already wrapped up his second USAC National Sprint-Car crown, but he will be out to set a new all-time point high for a season, and break the tie between himself and three-time USAC sprint-car champion Larry Dickson of 12 wins in one year.

Also signing for the first USAC sanctioned sprint-car event in San Jose Speedway's history, are newly-crowned USAC National dirt-track champion Billy Cassella of Weirton, West Virginia; James McElreath of Arlington, Texas; Gary Patterson of Sacramento; and Bob East of Bellflower.

Over 40 of the nation's top drivers will be on hand for the $7,500 sweepstakes on the 1/3rd-mile paved oval. The top 20 drivers will start the 40-lap main event.

Leadership training: One misstep gets you all wet

HOW WOULD you go about getting a 200-pound hand-cart across a pond of water three feet deep?

This was one of several knotty problems students from Camden and Branham high school tackled as members of the Marine Corps Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps.

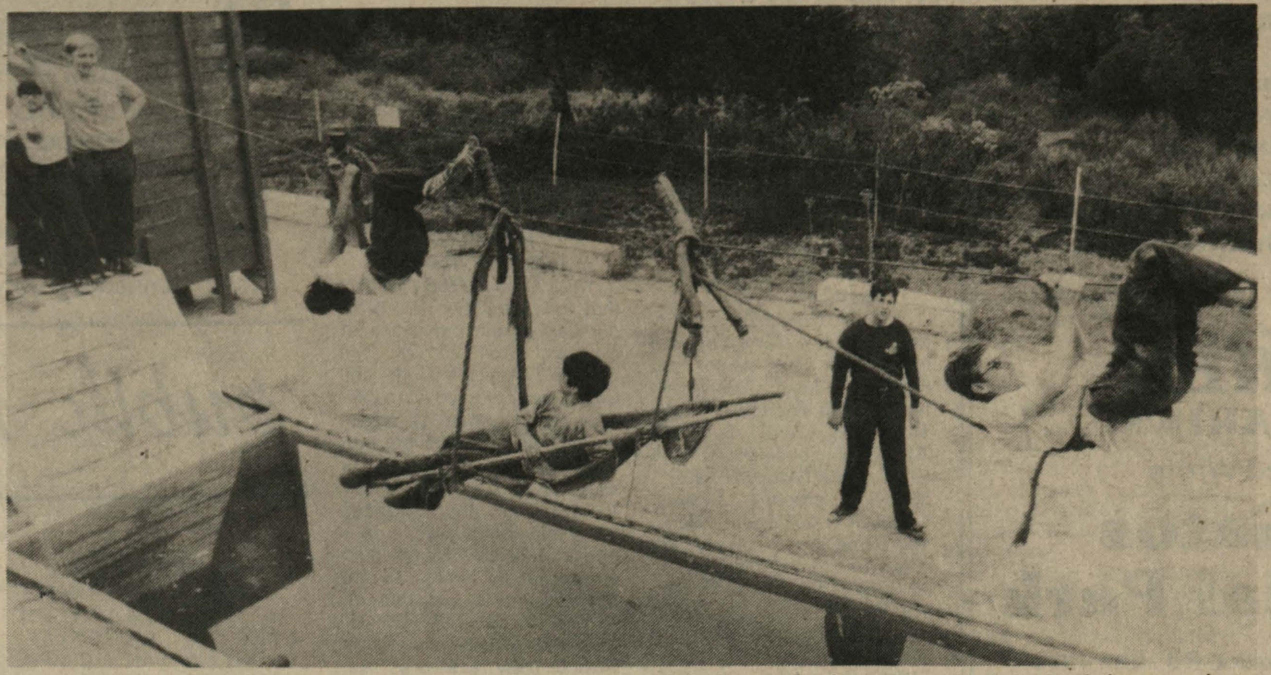
They recently attended a Leadership Reaction Course (LRC) at Fort Ord, and the purpose of the grueling session was to judge the reactions of R.O.T.C. leaders when faced with unusual obstacles. Like getting an "injured" man across a 50-foot pond (see photos), or figuring out how to get a box of medicine over a wrecked bridge, without touching the "razor sharp" obstacle in the middle.

BUT IT WASN'T all fun and games for the local trainees, there was also 10-mile forced marches, mock attacks with M-16 rifles and a stint in the Tear Gas Chamber where the young leaders did exercises, then took off their gas masks and attempted to sing the Marine Corps hymn (few got past the first few words.)

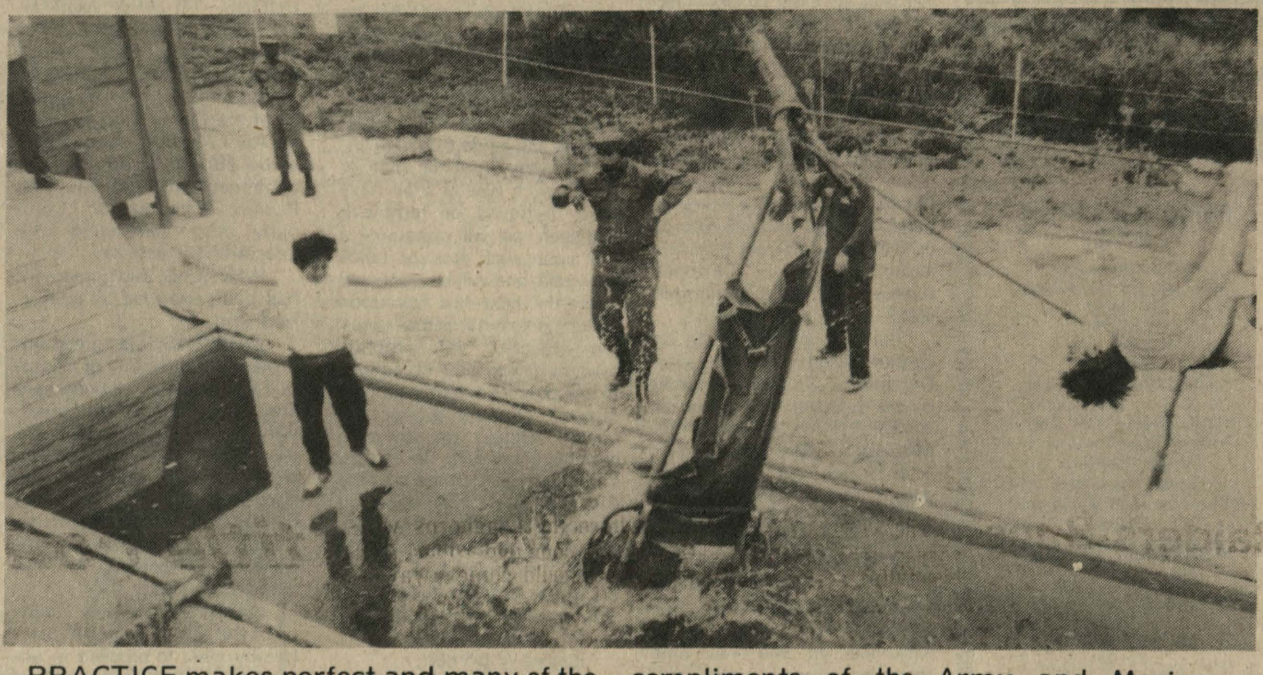
All of the LRC activities were closely supervised by Army personnel and Head Marine Corps instructor Lt. Col. Eppley (USMC) retired, and his four instructors.

"LRC isn't easy," says Dave Sawyer, a Branham ROTC student.

"It tests your mind, body and sense of team spirit but, if the cheers of a team that has successfully completed an obstacle are any judge, it's worth it."



THE PROBLEM for Campbell ROTC Marine cadets recently was to transport an "injured" man across a pond and trainees at the Fort Ord center used a stretcher and cable to carry out their mission.



PRACTICE makes perfect and many of the ROTC leaders got a free swimming lesson, compliments of the Army and Marine Corps.

Mental health group wants action

Nationally-known speakers, an expanded volunteer force and "intensified involvement" in public affairs is the goal of the Santa Clara County Mental Health Association for this year, as outlined by President Joe Gilbert.

First order of business though, Gilbert says, will be to take "a hard look at the shortcoming" of mental health services to minorities.

"We are a citizens organization," the President declared, "and we derive our strength as an effective advocate for the mentally handicapped not through professional training but through a lay person's empathy for the suffering of others and a general skepticism toward established institutions."

Patient's rights is a prime concern of the group this year and, in order to carry out their expanded program, more volunteer members are needed.

For those who want more information about the Association or have time to spare call 247-1770 or visit the offices at 1572 Los Padres blvd., in Santa Clara.

Lynda Cox engagement announced

The engagement of Lynda Cox of Campbell and Robert Garman of San Jose was announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cox at a family gathering in their Salerno drive home.

Lynda, a Camden high school graduate, attended West Valley College and San Jose Bible College. She is presently employed as an office administrator in a life insurance firm.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garman of San Jose, is a graduate of Willow Glen high school. He operates his own trucking firm.

The couple plans a January wedding.

Local instructor is tops in national tennis scene

IF YOU want to stay married don't play mixed doubles, advises West Valley College instructor Sue Anawalt. And she should know.

Sue recently returned from Houston where she, and Arlene Cohen, took top spot in the national doubles for women over 35. Actually both women are just over that age limit, they're both 36.

The petite mother of two didn't find the Texas tournament trying. Instead, Sue says, "I sometimes worried that Arleen and I might seem rude, we laughed so much when we played."

The college instructor, married to an attorney, has been playing tennis since she was nine, but her partner is a newcomer to the game. Arleen took up the sport at 28.

Sue is a strong advocate of sports for older people. "The only limitations for older people are the limitations set by themselves," she declares.

For two years Sue served as president of the tennis organization, Women Players of Northern California, that boasts a membership of 200. Purpose of the group is to encourage women to play tennis and to promote better playing conditions.

And the deeply tanned instructor practices what she preaches.

WHEN THIS picture of Sue Anawalt was taken on the Campbell high school tennis courts, coeds in the tennis class asked, "Who is she?" She's the national doubles champion for women over 35 and teaches tennis at West Valley college.

A memo to advertisers

HOW TO STEP UP THE POWER OF YOUR AD!

DON'T OMIT YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Many readers will find it more convenient to call you.

DON'T OMIT THE ADDRESS. Many readers will write or visit you rather than phoning.

DON'T USE BLIND NUMBER BOXES. Avoid them if at all possible. They are difficult to answer and therefore not conducive to greatest results.

DON'T ABBREVIATE! Abbreviations are discouraged because most people are unable — or will not bother — to figure them out. Thus losing you many prospects.

DON'T CONCEAL THE PRICE DESIRED. Surveys show that many people will not answer an ad unless the price or an indication of the price bracket is given.

DON'T KEEP 'EM GUESSING. Don't let the readers guess on important details.

STAY HOME! Don't leave home on days others might answer the ad.

TO INSURE MAXIMUM RESULTS. Place your ad on the "four issue play safe plan." You may cancel it just as soon as the desired results have been obtained.

Before the days of skyrocketing prices, people lived within their means. That was a good feeling. Paul Swanson believes people should still know that feeling. That's why you will find realistic price tags, reflecting only the cost of the car and a small margin of profit, on every car we sell. We believe in low prices and we make them available to you.

Animal control blasted

Down, that sounds the truck horn if a call is coming through from communications, he says.

The "dognapping" problem within the department was finally solved, Clarke says, when the two men involved were allowed to resign. "There was a good deal of dog stealing. For instance, if they found a dog that looked pedigreed or one in demand, like a Pit Bull, they'd keep it and sell it." This was accomplished in one of two ways, Clarke says. By taking it to the shelter, doing a fast shuffle with the paperwork, and then driving off with the dog.

"SOMETIMES THEY didn't even bother to drive to the Humane Society," Clarke contends.

About six month into his new job Clarke says he couldn't just stand by and watch what was happening anymore so he went to his "senior" ACO, then to the supervisor, the chief animal control officer, county health officer and finally all the way to the top when he wasn't satisfied.

"Howard Campen (then county executive) was very, very kindly," Clarke says. "I must have spent two hours in his office. He promised something would be done but told me things take time."

AND SOMETHING was done. First a new position of administrative assistant was authorized and 20 more ACO's were hired.

"But the next year we picked up 10,000 fewer dogs," Clarke says. Official reaction to that drop, he explains, was that the focus was on dog licensing.

"Since then service has deteriorated," the former ACO alledges, "due in the large part of continuing labor-management problems."

Clarke says he was offered the post of administrative assistant, after his visit to Campen, but later told his chief what he could do with the job after a policy dispute.

THAT DISPUTE was over an hour during the night shift when no one was available to handle calls. Staff had been cut back to one man who worked an eight hour shift but was paid for seven. "He insisted on having his (unpaid) lunch hour uninterrupted," Clarke says. He says he argued vehemently that it wasn't right to leave the county with no service for that hour but his concern fell on deaf ears.

Then it happened. A police dispatcher (he doesn't remember if it was Campbell or Sunnyvale) called in to report an injured dog. "The man told him to stick it in his ear," Clarke says. The dog died and subsequent discussion of the incident on a radio station gave the already tarnished department a big black eye.

But out of this came a new policy too. "An agreement was worked out so the man would be paid for eight hours and remain on call during his lunch hour."

LACK OF TRAINING is the single most cause of the department's woes, Clarke alledges, and he'd like to see some funds be expended for a "real training program."

He even has his list of priorities for ACO's worked out.

- Law
- How to drive vehicles
- Training in livestock
- First aid training for injured animals.

So for now Clarke thinks it would be a big mistake to turn over the shelter operation to animal control. "If people are really interested in proper treatment for animals they should not let the county take on the pound facility and let the animal control people be in charge."

A CLEAN BILL FOR CETA

The Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board announced last week they've received a clean bill of health following a federal audit of the local Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program review.

News of the "very positive" internal audit report was announced at the board's monthly meeting last Friday.

CETA presently supplied staff members to the city of Campbell, the West Valley Progressive Senior Center and to the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

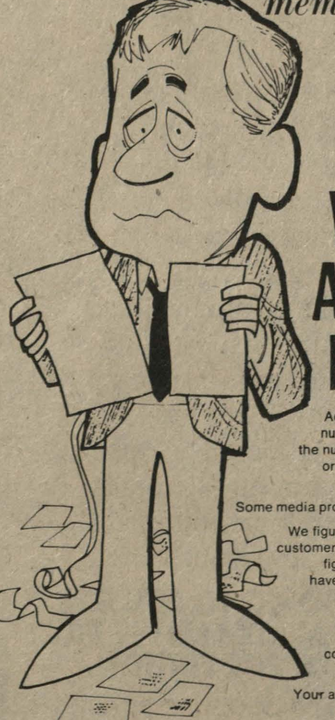
memo to advertisers



HOW MANY WHATS ARE YOU BUYING?

Advertising costs are not based on the number of eyes that see your message, the number of fingers turning these pages, or the number of hats a reader wears—at least they shouldn't be.

Some media projections leave you guessing, though.

We figure it is the nose that counts—one per customer. In fact, we feel accurate circulation figures are so important to you that we have the Audit Bureau of Circulations do our nose counting for us.

ABC sets the standards. Their specially-trained auditors do the counting. And they publish a report on the facts as they found them to be.

Community schools idea gets hearing

Would you like to attend a class on upholstery or hold a basketball tournament in your local school? Under the Community School program, residents can do that and much more.

A general information meeting for the public is planned for Wednesday, Dec. 1 at 7 p.m. in the Campbell junior high school multi-use room, 295 W. Cherry Lane.

The Community Schools study committee, made up of representatives of several local agencies, recently completed preliminary meetings. They've been looking into the idea of starting a Community School in Campbell.

Right now the nearest programs are at Castro Community Center, near Westgate and the Cambrian Center at Bohnett School on Bascom ave.

Community Schools are developed and run by members of the community, with an assist from other agencies. The programs, classes and special events are determined by those the Center serves and can range from art classes to yoga, sports, programs and even a community garden (like the one at the Castro Center).

Anyone interested in finding out more about the program, to taking part in helping get it off the ground is urged to attend the Dec. 1 meeting.

Participating in the study committee were representatives of the city of Campbell, Campbell elementary and high school districts, West Valley College, adult education and the Santa Clara County Office of Community Education.

Anyone with questions about the program can call Community Services Coordinator Barbara Harison at 378-8141, ext. 252.

THE ARMY CAN HELP YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER SAVE $8100 FOR COLLEGE OVER THE NEXT THREE YEARS.

INTRODUCING A NEW EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM.

Starting January 1, 1977, your son or daughter can accumulate up to $8100 for college or vocational-technical school during just 36 months in the Army.

Under this Educational Assistance Program, they can save from $50 to $75 each month, with their savings matched 2 for 1! And that adds up.

FOR EVERY DOLLAR THEY SAVE TOWARD COLLEGE, TWO WILL BE ADDED.

By participating in the new program, a young person gets three dollars back for every dollar saved toward college or vocational-technical school—the dollar saved plus the additional two dollars of matching funds.

If the maximum of $75 a month is saved ($2700 over 36 months), $5400 will be added for a total of $8100. If the minimum of $50 a month is saved ($1800 over 36 months), $3600 will be added for a total of $5400.

HOW DO THEY COLLECT?

Assuming your son or daughter has finished the 36-month enlistment in the Army and has deposited, for example, $75 to the educational fund each month, the $8100 accumulated under the program will be paid in monthly installments of $225 for each month of college or vocational-technical school completed.

If they decide not to continue schooling after the Army, they get back all the money saved. The matching funds will be paid only if used toward completing up to four years of college or vocational-technical school. The extra $5400 matching amount becomes a strong incentive for a young person to continue with school.

THEY CAN ALSO GO TO COLLEGE WHILE IN THE ARMY AND WE PAY UP TO 75% OF THE TUITION.

If your son or daughter enlists in today's Army, all kinds of educational opportunities are open for earning college or vocational-technical credits right on post with the Army paying up to 75% of the tuition. Under Project AHEAD, for example, a young person can enlist in the Army and enroll in college or vocational-technical school at the same time. Over 1400 colleges and universities around the country now participate in Project AHEAD. It's a great chance for a young person to get a jump on the future.

YOUR LOCAL ARMY REPRESENTATIVE IS THE PERSON TO TALK TO NEXT.

This new Educational Assistance Program, along with all of the other educational benefits the Army offers, will help your son or daughter serve their country better as soldiers now, citizens later. There's no better time to start getting that education than now. Your local Army Representative has full details on all the educational and other opportunities for young people in today's Army. Or, if you'd like us to send the information to you, just mail the coupon. Or call 800-431-1976 toll free. In NY, call 800-243-5614.
